

Enhancing Communication: SLP Treatment for Children who Stutter

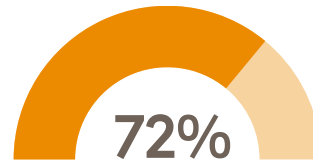

The majority of children who work with an SLP on their fluency goals demonstrate functional gains and communicate more effectively.

make functional gains in communication communicate more effectively in high-stress situations are better understood by listeners

NOMS

ASHA's National Outcomes
Measurement System

Your Data at Work

American Speech-Language-Hearing Association. (2024). <https://www.asha.org/NOMS>